For the prevention and cure o
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

THE RUNAWAY came to the stables of the subscriber, on Monday the 1st inst. a person calling himself
Mr. PEYTON,
and obtained a horse and gig on hire, as he said, to go to Ellicott's Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day; and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of genteel appearance, and well calculated to deceive.

The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 9 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The gig has a green body, carriage and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth, red stuff top, linings, plated double—outside joints.

I will give the above reward for the recovery of the horse and gig, and the detection of the scoundrel, or 20 dollars for the horse and gig only, and all reasonable expenses if delivered to me, No. 26, North Liberty street, Baltimore.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE
AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette $7....Country Gazette $5.

TUESDAY, JUNE 16, 1818.

From the New-York Columbian.

SPRING.

Upon a hillock's eastern side,
Where brightest glow'd the flood of day,
Array'd in aromatic pride,
A beauteous nymph dejected lay.
I wondering kenn'd the curious maid,
From eyes of light her tears did flow,
To gem the bloom but recent laid
On spotless cheek of purest snow.

As zephyr light, her loose attire
With sweets hobo'd east incense round
And pendant over hung a lyre,
Which unseen fingers taught to sound:
A rod, unwreath'd, of brilliant fame,
Of magic virtues grac'd her hand;
She gently breath'd, as Heaven's own flame
But touch'd, and lo! the buds expand.

Flush'd was her cheek—as young rose fair—
Her plaintive accents mildly sweet;
Green tendrils bound her glossy hair,
And dew drops glitter'd on her feet.
She cast around a mournful glance
O'er flowerless fields and forests bare,
And sigh'd—that song, nor frolic dance,
Nor happy labor's smile, were there.

Her name was Spring!—she wept those flowers
Which erst adorn'd the busy plain.—
Mysterious change! the tribute showers
Recall'd and fix'd their tints again;
Then round the oak the ivy wreathes,
(Thus beauty clings to valor's arm)
And softly smiles, and warmly breathes—
E'en his rough nature owns the charm.

Up rose the maid! her dazzling zone
With gems of morning lustre glow'd;
Where'er her form resplendent shone,
A floweret blush'd, a rivulet flow'd!
Triumphant sought with lightsome tread,
Some valley streamlet's sunny shore,
To tell those whom her bounty fed,
That plenty reign'd supreme once more

With tasteful negligence she strew'd
Her fragrant stores profusely gay,
While mirth and joy, in jocund mood,
Tripp'd gaily in the checquer'd way.
To woodland then she sped, and flung
Her mantle gently o'er the trees;
The broider'd robe unfolding hung
In sportive dalliance with the breeze.

Excursive, on the gelid steep
She treads, and frees its noisy stream;
The sparry sides of cavern deep,
With mingling brilliance sudden gleam:
And then, to close the witching scene,
She form'd a lone umbrageous bower,
Then spread a carpet broad and green,
Of velvet, work'd with many a flower.

THE SEASON.

The season, throughout the U. States, with the exception of the late hail storm in Washington and Virginia, is clad in etherial mildness, and "veil'd in flowers" has gladdened all our fields.

"The stony tempest which with rushing sound
Beat the firm glebe, revolting from the ground;
Swiftly it falls, and as it falls invades
The rising herb, or breaks the spreading blades;
While infant flowers that raised their blooming heads,
Crushed by its fury, sink into their beds."

The spring, although not early, which always indicates a favorable summer, has advanced with rapid steps—and the productions of the whole surrounding country,

"Broader and broader yet their blooms display, Salute the welcome sun and entertain the day." [Bost. Intel.

A letter received in this city, dated Sassafras, Md. June 8th, states that, "on the evening of the 7th we had one of the most tremendous hail storms ever known in this part: it broke all the window glass, destroyed the fruit and garden plants, and injured the crops materially. Its continuance was about five minutes; the firmament was one continued blaze of light—the noise which the hail made in its descent was equal to the loudest thunder." [Bal. Gaz.

ALEXANDRIA:
TUESDAY, JUNE 16, 1818.

WARM WEATHER

On Thursday, 28th ult. at Salem, Mass. the mercury was at 90° of Fahrenheit.—The warmest day in Alexandria, was last Thursday, when the mercury was not higher than 86°. We have always observed, that although the average heat may be greater the nearer we approach the equator, yet the extreme heat will be found near the 45th degree of latitude, or midway from the equator to the poles.

Green peas made their appearance in the New-York market on Friday last, and sold at 50 cents a peck. This is less than we pay for this article, 62½ cents being demanded yesterday. The late drought has had the effect of keeping up the price of all early vegetables. From the seasonable rains, however, within 2 or 3 days past, we may expect to find our market plentifully supplied for some time, and at proportionably reasonable prices.

Prices of American Produce at St. Pierres, May 26.—Corn per bbl. $4 1-2; white beans per do. 7; black eyed do. 6 a 7; herrings 4; pickled fish 6; potatoes 6; beef 16 a 17; tobacco per 100 lbs. 12 a 13; rice 8 a 9; codfish 7 1-2; onions per bushel 10 cents; boards, wh. pine, per M. 21 a 22; shingles 7 1-2; hoops 40 a 45; shooks 2. West India Produce—Coffee per lb. 20 cents; sugar 8 1-2; rum per gallon 60; molasses, in barter 40, for cash 33.

The French sloop of war Eglantine, Captain Mandhay, 22 days from Martinique, arrived here yesterday with despatches. [N. Y. Gaz. June 11.

SPECIE.

It is whispered that the French sloop of war Eglantine, which anchored yesterday at our watering place, brought a very large sum in whole and half French crowns. We could have wished they had been real, unadulterated Spaniards, being the more current medium of the present day, although rather too much above par.

In twelve months hence, our banks can redeem their paper with specie, without one Spanish dollar in their vaults; and the Indians and Chinese must take French Crowns and American Eagles for their manufactures, or the striped bunting will no longer wave in their ports.

From the Norfolk Herald of June 10.

EXPLANATION.

In the statement which we published a few days ago, respecting the Pallas, Captain Trouant, the conduct of Captain Goodwin, of the British ship Asia, is left exposed to the severest animadversion.—It might be inferred from that statement, that he took advantage of the distressed situation of the Pallas, to demand as the price of his assistance, such sacrifices as Capt. Trouant could only be warranted in making to preserve the lives of himself and crew; an impression which Capt. T. himself is desirous to counteract, and has therefore requested us to publish the letter he received from Capt. Goodwin, containing the terms upon which he was willing to assist the Pallas. It is needless to add that the tenor of this letter, as well as the proposal it contains, are such as to do away any unfavorable impression which may have been induced with respect to Capt. G. by the statement published in our paper. It is to do justice to a humane stranger that we now publish this letter; and we request that those editors who may have copied the former statement will do the same.

"Ship Asia, at sea, 25th May, 1818, in lat. 32, 25, N. long. 75, 20, W.

"Sir—The calls of humanity have induced me to lay by you during the night, and I will still do so if you think it will be of any advantage to your concern—but if not, I must proceed; first offering yourself and crew a safe and friendly asylum to Europe, on board my ship, should you be obliged to leave your own vessel from the nature of the leak. If you cannot keep the brig above water with your own crew, I will send you hands to pump, and (they shall) proceed with you off some friendly port in America, so that the property may be saved; and in the event of the brig's safe arrival, I shall expect, on behalf of my crew and employers, one third of the brig and cargo, in consequence of such services rendered. You are the best judge of your own situation, and to your decision I leave the matter.

I am, sir,
Your very obedient servant,
GEORGE M. GOODWIN.

P. S. I expect an answer per the bearer; and in the event of your agreeing to this, yourself, mate, and crew will sign this letter in presence of my officers; and I recommend your reading this to your crew."

Norristown, June 10.

The late murmurings are every where turning to joy and thankfulness. The grain and grass are flourishing and appear very promising—the Indian corn has been injured in places by the grub, or cut worm—some farmers have been under the necessity of re-planting, but from present appearances there are yet hopes of its being propitious to the husbandman.

Ogdensburgh, June 2.

On Friday last, J. F. Pluymart, one of the persons supposed to have been concerned in the robbery of the Mechanics' and Farmers' Bank at Pittsburg, was taken up at Brockville, and brought to this place for examination. About $700 in gold, and 1500 in bills of the Pittsburg banks, and near 3000 in bills of other western banks, were found in his trunk. His dress was evidently a disguise, but his name and the description of his person precisely coincided with the description given of him in the advertisement of the directors of the bank, offering a reward of $300 for his apprehension. The examination continued about half a day—and after fully weighing all the circumstances, he was committed by our magistrates to the jail of this county; and we flattered ourselves that the career of this artful and finished villain would be stopped, and he would receive the punishment due for his crimes.

Unfortunately for the public, however, on Sunday night last, the jail was broken open, and this man, together with 2 other prisoners, made their escape; to effect this they must have had external aid, which the appearance of the jail and the implements used for breaking it indicate; and, we are sorry to say that we believe persons have been found in this vicinity base enough to assist in turning this man loose, again to prey upon society.

[Since the above was in type, we have seen a letter from Ogdensburg, which states that Pluymart and all who have escaped from prison have been retaken.

"WAGER OF BATTELL."

The people of this country have been much amused at various times within the last six months, by accounts received from England, of an attempt to settle an important accusation of murder, by an old common law mode called "WAGER OF BATTELL"—that is, in other words, by a sharp recountre or battle, between some near surviving friend of the deceased, and the person accused of the offence. This remnant of a barbarous age, bears upon its very visage the features of superstition. In the absence of the necessary proof to convict the person suspected of the crime, it was doubtless imagined by those who instituted this mode of trial, that Omniscient Justice would interfere, and decide the combat according to the truth of the case. It is doubtless owing to the long disuse of this mode of settling questions of fact, that it has been suffered to remain in that country without a formal abolishment by Parliamentary interference; and it is to be presumed, that the late instance that has occurred, will be followed by a legislative act, abolishing in future this vestige of the dark ages.

This ridiculous portion of the common law, has excited much mirth, and no little contempt, among the good people of this country. Indeed, what can appear more absurd, or more presumptuous, than for a couple of human beings, thirsting for each other's blood, thus to throw themselves upon the justice of God, and claim from him a direct interference in their controversy. And yet, absurd and presumptuous as it is, the principle of it has been extensively adopted in the code of honor, and is continually put in practice over a large portion of the United States. In this code, its provisions are vastly more extensive than when confined to the common law. There it was used in the case of murder—in the code of honour, it extends to offences the most trifling and insignificant. It is the Duellist who adopts the "Wager of Battell" here, and applies the remedy to cases the most unimportant. And yet who thinks of sneering at duels? Who considers that species of battle as a relique of barbarism, or those who engage in it as votaries of a dark and presumptuous superstition?

A vast many efforts have been made, and a multitude of expedients tried, to banish duels from this christian country, but, hitherto, without success. This is owing to two circumstances—public opinion has a strange leaning towards this sort of homicide—and public tribunals have a marvellous unwillingness to execute the laws relating to it. But I am inclined to the opinion, that if the doctrine of "Wager of Battell" were to be brought into use, and rigidly enforced, it would go a great way towards remedying the evil.

For the purpose of making the experiment fairly, the law should be made to embrace all cases—there should be no exemption, unless at least one of the parties should decline fighting in the first instance. By all cases, is meant the cases of all descriptions of persons, the clown as well as the gentleman, blacks as well as whites—there should be one mode and trial of punishment provided for all. And not only so, but if an offence should take place between a gentleman and a clown, no matter how mean the object of resentment should be, if the clown should wage his battell, the gentleman should be obliged to fight him according to the laws of chivalry, so far as they are applicable to the case.—Now, then, the plan we have in view should be somewhat like the following—

If a man should call another a liar, a scoundrel, or should be rude to him at a theatre, or any place of public amusement, or should at some convival meeting look awry with reference to his friend, or let fall some equivocal expression, which might, indeed, on common occasions, have passed well enough, but under the peculiar circumstances, and on the occasion, cannot, according to the laws of honor, be considered otherwise than as an insult, and so with regard to all the other nameless and indiscribable offences that are now considered, by the said laws, as furnishing legitimate ground for a duel, and a challenge ensues, every such person shall, under the present system, be authorized to "wage his battell," which wager shall be excepted, on pain, in case of refusal, of the refuser's being hung without judge or jury. This would present a new state of things to the public consideration. Fighting, as a mode of adjusting offences, would not be confined to what are called gentlemen, but would more frequently occur between persons in very different stations in life—between persons of different complexions—for instance, between a master and his servant, a man of fashion and figure and a black-guard. After the first impressions shall have worn away, there is little doubt that the plan would become popular—the variety of combatants would display a scene altogether new and diverting, and the foul offence of murder, in case of the death of either party, would be entirely done away, as the loss of life would be strictly according to law.

A PASTORAL LETTER

From the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to the Churches under their care.

Dear Brethren—The time in which we address you is very important and interesting. The free conversation on the state of religion has exhibited abundant evidences, that the Churches under our care have never been in a more prosperous condition than during the last year. In the year immediately preceding, perhaps special revivals were more remarkable and more numerous, but as it relates to the general extension of religious influence, the organization of new congregations, and the wide spreading success of the Missionary labors, the aspect of the Church has probably never been so promising as at the present time—and when in addition to this we reflect on the various institutions, not only in our own connexion, but in the christian world at large, calculated to extend the kingdom of our Redeemer; the zeal and liberality with which those institutions are supported; and the extensively beneficial effects which they are every day producing; we are obliged to consider the present moment as forming an important era in the annals of religion. A general movement of Protestant Christendom has taken place; an unusual blessing has descended on the Church of Christ; and we are probably approaching some day of the Son of Man of no usual or ordinary character. The present, therefore, is no doubt a favorable time, not only for extending the influence, but for advancing the purity of the Church; for the extirpation of any errors, and the abolition of any unchristian practises which may have found entrance among us, during the long period of comparative darkness and desertion through which we have passed.—And although we do not believe that any thing immoral or vicious is more prevalent now than at some former periods, or even as much so; yet the existence of such things at the present time, strikes the minds of serious Christians with an appearance of greater deformity, and fills them with more pungent regret as it is exhibited in such dark contrast with that promising and wonderful aspect of things so extensively displayed by the christian world. The free conversation on the state of religion, has brought some such things to our view, against which we feel constrained to bear our decided testimony; and we would enter upon this duty with the tenderness and meekness, but at the same time with the firmness and authority which becomes a judiciary of the church of Christ.

The first thing we shall notice is the crime of Drunkenness. This crime has at all times been a curse to our country, and has often made lamentable inroads upon our church. We are convinced that it may be opposed more successfully by prevention than in any other way.—When the character of drunkenness is fully formed, the unhappy victim is lost to those motives which ordinarily influence all other classes of men. In this state of things nothing but a miracle of divine grace can effect his reformation. The certain and acknowledged prospect of the wreck of his family, his fortune, and his character; and even of the ruin of his immortal soul, is not sufficient to arrest his course: and yet perhaps the same man may formerly have been in such a state of equilibrium or indecision upon this subject, that the smallest motives might have prevented the formation of a habit, which in its maturity has become so irresistible. This considerations is certainly sufficient to justify an effort for saving our fellow men from the domination of so destructive a vice. For this purpose we earnestly recommend to the officers and members of our church to abstain even from the common use of ardent spirits. Such a voluntary privation as this, with its motives publicly avowed, will not be without its effect in cautioning our fellow christians and fellow citizens, against the encroachment of intoxication; and we have the more confidence in recommending this course, as it has already been tried with success in several sections of the church.

The vice of Gambling has also been forced upon our attention. We indeed hope that few, or perhaps none, of our actual professors, have indulged themselves in the practice of what they consider as coming under the denomination of Gambling.—But perhaps there are some addicted to this practice who have evinced a predilection for our church, and forms of worship, and who are not unwilling to receive the word of admonition from us. Such, we would earnestly exhort to consider in the most serious manner, the consequences of the course they are pursuing and the lessons which the experience of the world, is every day exhibiting on this subject. But it is further our duty to testify, that all encouragement of lotteries, and purchasing of lottery tickets; all attendance on horse-racing, and betting on such, or on any other occasions; and all attempts of whatever kind to acquire gain without giving an equivalent, involve the Gambling principle, and participate in the guilt which attaches to that vice.

On the fashionable, though as we believe dangerous amusements, of Theatrical exhibitions and Dancing, we deem it necessary to make a few observations.—The Theatre we have always considered as a school of immorality. If any person wishes for honest conviction on this subject, let him attend to the character of that mass of matter, which is generally exhibited on the stage. We believe all will agree, that comedies at least, with a few exceptions, are of such a description, that a virtuous and modest person cannot attend the representation of them, without the most painful and embarrassing sensations. If, indeed, custom has familiarized the scene, and these painful sensations are no longer felt, it only proves that the person in question, has lost some of the best sensibilities of our nature—that the strongest safeguard of virtue has been taken down, and that the moral character has undergone a serious depreciation.

With respect to Dancing, we think it necessary to observe, that however plausible it may appear to some, it is perhaps the not less dangerous on account of that plausibility. It is not from those things which the world acknowledges to be most wrong, that the greatest danger is to be apprehended to religion, especially as it relates to the young. When the practice is carried to its highest extremes, all admit the consequences to be fatal;—and why not then apprehend danger even from its incipient stages. It is certainly in all its stages, a fascinating and infatuating practice. Let it once be introduced and it is difficult to give it limits. It steals away our precious time, dissipates religious impressions, and hardens the heart. To guard you, beloved brethren, against its wiles and its fascinations, we earnestly recommend that you will cultivate that sobriety which the sacred pages require. We also trust, that you will attend with the meekness and docility becoming the christian character, to the admonitions on this subject, of those whom you have chosen to watch for your souls. And now, beloved brethren, that you may be guarded from the dangers we have pointed out, and from all other dangers which beset the path of life and obstruct our common salvation, and that the great head of the church may have you in his holy keeping, is our sincere and affectionate prayer. Amen.

Fan-sash Making

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been sevecely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expence in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.

Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as it in town.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phænomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavoured to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.

THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.

II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.

III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12—to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.

Subscriptions will be received by

Bath House.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the public, that his Bath House is now and will remain in complete operation until the 15th inst. at which time should a sufficient number of subscribers be obtained, it will be continued during the season, otherwise he will be compelled the necessity of closing it on that day. The experience of former years, he trusts, will be a satisfactory apology for so doing, as without sufficient patronage to meet the expenses thereof, he cannot continue the bath house without incurring certain loss.

Gentlemen disposed to encourage the establishment, will please to leave their names at his bar.

June 2 T. SHIELDS.

Absconded,

ON the night of the 16th inst. my negro man JOHN, or JOHN ALLEN, (as he calls himself),—he is well known, having lived with me for several years, and has travelled a good deal with me. He is a very plausible fellow, about 30 years of age, slender made, and about 5 feet 5 inches high, rather of a yellow complexion, but the complete negro mouth and nose—has a small scar on one of his cheeks—has lately had a sore on his right leg, directly on the shin bone, which leg has the appearance of being much scored at a former period by disease or the small pox. His hat was made and stamped by Rogers of Baltimore.—A reward of 10 dollars will be given if taken in the town or county of Alexandria, 20 if in the county of Washington or Fairfax, 50 if in Baltimore or state of Maryland, and 100 if in Philadelphia or the state of Pennsylvania, and in like proportion if at any other places, with all reasonable charges for bringing him here and securing him in jail.

Mar 18 JAMES SANDERSON.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Fœnia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs, and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions
Lowness of spirits	Indigestion
Loss of appetite	Melancholy
Impurity of b'ood	Gout in the stomach
Hysteric'l affection	Pains in the limbs
Inward weaknesses and debility	Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
